

Chesapeake Conference Center Sales Manager Has Over 20 Years of Experience in Hospitality

Sylvia Edwards
Sales Manager/Event Coordinator
Chesapeake Conference Center

Sylvia Edwards is a Sales Manager/Event Coordinator for the Conference Center in Chesapeake, Virginia. She is the primary manager and consultant for all business matters pertaining to the Religious, Association, Military and Government markets for the Conference Center. Sylvia markets Conference Center key business offering approximately 20 years ago before joining the Chesapeake Conference Center team in August 2000. She was an Event Coordinator for 5 years and was promoted to the Sales Manager in 2005.

Sylvia attended Northampton County East High School in North Carolina and went on to graduate from Virginia Institute of Technology. Sylvia also attended Norfolk State University where she studied business and marketing. These skills have helped her to obtain many awards and recognitions, including Sales Manager of the Year (2006-2007), as well as sales manager of the first, second and third quarter of the year (2007-2008).

Sylvia is married and has one daughter. She is a member of Saint Paul's Baptist Church in Richmond, Virginia. She is also a member of the Society of Government Meeting Planners and has recently joined Women In Defense, an organization with the mission of "Cultivating and supporting the advancement and recognition of women in all aspects of national security."

to perspective clientele to gain business for the Conference Center. She began her career in the hotel hospitality industry

Call Sylvia Edwards at 757 382-2500 to book your next meeting and/or conference.